TAX REDUCTION RECOMMENDED TO CONGRESS

1929 SURPLUS IS GOVERNING FACTOR IN CASE

TREASURY MAINTAINS THAT IT
SHOULD BE KEPT CLOSE
TO $250,000,000

REVENUES FROM RAILROAD SEC-URITIES EXHAUSTED
THIS YEAR

Washington, Oct. 18. — (UP) —
The treasury will advise the house ways and means committee when it goes before that body Oct. 31 that any tax reduction recommended to the next congress should be kept to $250,000,000.

Officials said today after a month's study of government revenues that the governing factor for a tax reduction will be the 1929 surplus.
It was estimated the surplus for the current fiscal year would reach nearly $600,000,000 because of back tax collections of nearly $300,000,000 and $170,000,000 receipts from government-owned railroad securities.

The 1929 surplus will be only about $300,000,000 as revenues from railroad securities will be exhausted this year, and back tax collections will drop to about $150,000,000 annually, it was stated.

Cases pending before the U. S. board of tax appeals involve $500,- 000,000 and the government expects 60 per cent of them to be settled in its favor, thus swelling the future surpluses.

Officials indicated the treasury would recommend a 1 per cent reduction on the present 13 1/2 per cent corporation tax, a slight cut in maximum surtaxes and elimination of many of the remaining taxes.

Recommendation of Chairman Smoot of the senate finance committee that taxes be cut $350,000,000 was viewed as excessive. Officials said the cut could total $250,000,000 without the government running a deficit, but any figure over this amount would mean financial difficulties.

FRIENDS OF DUVALL CALL MASS MEETING

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 18. — (UP) — Another mass meeting was called by friends of Mayor John Duvall for tonight, to arouse sympathy for "Protestant officeholders now persecuted by Catholic democrats and disgruntled republicans."

Duvall is remaining in office as mayor of Indianapolis despite his conviction and sentence on charges of violating the corrupt practices act and his resultant disfranchisement. He declared he would act as mayor until his appeal from the sentence was acted upon.

United States Senator Heflin of Alabama will be the principal speaker at the mass meeting, it was announced.

Meantime the grand jury continued its investigation of charges of political corruption in Indiana, with a score of witnesses slated to appear.

WOMAN TIPPED SIR THOS. LIPTON HALF A DOLLAR

New York, Oct. 18. — (UP) — The yachting cap affected by Sir Thomas Lipton proved a money maker for the multi-millionaire while en route to the United States aboard the Leviathan.

A woman passenger, presumably near-sighted, called Sir Thomas to her deck chair.

"Steward," she said, "will you please bring me a rug?"

Without comment Sir Thomas found the desired blanket and brought it to the woman.

"Thank you," and she tipped him fifty cents.

Sir Thomas bowed low and walked away. He kept the half dollar.

Friday for Mr. and Mrs. Sever Ronningen, who died 14 hours apart at the home of their daughter, Mrs. Sam Sandvik.

old, was ill several weeks. Mrs. Ronningen suffered a stroke of apoplexy a week ago. She was 89 years old.

No Delay Apparent In the Fall-Sinclair Oil Case

* CHARGED WITH STEALING PACKAGE FROM R. F. D. BOX *

Fargo, N. D., Oct. 18. — (UP) — Charged with stealing a package from a rural mail box three years ago, George Lennick, Buelah, N.
D., was arrested by federal authorities, and today is at liberty under bond pending action of the federal grand jury. Lennick was arrested at Williston, and returned to this city for arraigment.

* EX-TREASURER OF ST. CLOUD IS UNDER FIRE *

ACTS OF JULIUS ADAMS, NOW RESIGNED, ARE RE-VIEWED

GARFIELD W. BROWN, STATE OF-FICIAL, CONDUCTED
EXAMINATION

St. Paul, Oct. 18. — (UP) — A city treasurer who used St. Cloud funds to conduct his personal business as a cigar dealer today came under fire of the state public examiner.

Garfield W. Brown, the official who conducted the investigation, found a shortage of $4,900 in the books extending over a period from Jan. 1, 1923, to Aug. 2, 1927.

Confronted with fact of his defalcations, Julius Adams, commissioner of finance and city treasurer, repaid the amount July 26, 1927, and resigned before the audit was completed. There will be no prosecution, Mr. Brown said.

The treasurer had several times borrowed city funds to use in purchasing his supplies of cigars and tobacco, the examiner said, all of the loans with the exception of the $4,900 having been previously repaid.

Other disclosures that the St.
Cloud purse strings were held none too tightly by Mr. Adams included, according to Mr. Brown:

Post dated checks and I. O. U.'s of city employees were carried on the books as cash.

Thousands of dollars paid out illegally through disregard of the city charter which requires that bids be called for on city purchases of $250 or over.

Payment of $5,450 to the St. Cloud municipal band from May 15, 1923, to Feb. 26, 1924, when a city ordinance specifically states that the band shall receive not over $2,000 yearly.

The water department carefully observed the charter limit of $250 on expenditures most of the time by purchasing meters in lots of 10, 20 and 30. Several times, however, Mr.
Brown discovered the costs ran over the figure without bids having been called for.

* NATURAL GAS COMPANIES MERGE *

New York, Oct. 18. — (UP) — What is termed one of the largest mergers of natural gas companies ever effected in the southwest has just been consummated, it was announced today.
Negotiations, it was learned, have been completed whereby practically all the stocks of the Oklahoma Natural Gas corporation in Texas and Kansas has been acquired by a new company to be known as the American Natural Gas corporation.

Properties embraced in the combination are valued at $40,000,000. The new company will serve a population of approximately 600,000 in Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas.

* JUGO-SLAVIA PLEADS FOR CLEMENCY FOR RADO MILICH *

state department had forwarded to Gov. Len Small of Illinois a petition of clemency by the Jugo-Slav government on behalf of Rado Milich, former Birger gangster, sentenced to hang Friday.

The petition was presented by the Jugo-Slav minister here, and forwarded by the department as a matter of course.

U. S. Coal Company Mine Near Bradley, Ohio, Is Destroyed by Dynamite Blast Today

RUTH ELDER AND HALDEMAN SAIL FOR LISBON

BOARDED PORTUGUESE STEAM-ER LIMA AT HORTA THIS MORNING

BIG CROWD ESCORTS AMERICAN GIRL TO SHIP LAST NIGHT

By MANUEL CAMARA
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Horta, Azores Islands, Oct. 18. — Ruth Elder and George Haldeman sailed aboard the Portuguese steamer Lima for Lisbon and Paris at 5 A. M. today.

Miss Elder went aboard the steamer late last night, intending to sleep through the ship's preparation for its departure at dawn.

She was escorted to the ship by a big crowd, surrounded by foreign colonists who entertained her during her surprise visit, and was cheered heartily as she went aboard.

"Good bye; I'll see you when I return next spring," said Miss Elder to the United Press correspondent as she shook hands aboard the Lima.

Miss Elder warmly hugged George Mackey, her host during her stay here; and George Haldeman, her companion, in turn hugged Mrs.
Mackey.

Rain which kept Miss Elder indoors most of her stay and gave her the slight cold from which she was suffering resumed some time before she boarded the Lima.

The rain, however, did not lessen the enthusiasm of the crowd.

Many of the farewell crowd bore flowers. Miss Elder thanked people individually and collectively for the honor done her at Horta, and waved her captain's hat as she went below to a cabin.

Much of the time just before her arrival on the ship was taken up by autograph hunters, with all of whose demands for her signature she complied smilingly.

Photographers were after her all day Monday, and Miss Elder posed for them too—but only while sitting in a chair, for, she said, she could not bring herself to have her whole
had borrowed from her more mature hostess.

Miss Elder said last night, as she prepared to board the Lima, that she and Haldeman probably would fly from Lisbon to Paris and remain at the French capital for two weeks.

That showed that she has not much hope of getting a fast boat to France or England when the Lima reaches Funchal, Madeira, next Monday; but that she expected to stay on the ship until it reached Lisbon October 26.

It is an ending like that which marked the flight of Harry Hawker, pioneer of trans-ocean flyers. Hawker also landed at sea near a small steamer that did not even carry wireless. It took a week for the ship to get to port and tell the world Hawker and Commander Mackenzie Grieve, his companion, were alive.

Lindbergh, Chamberlin, Byrd and Brock and Schlee all landed in Europe, and had not far to go to reach the lights and formal luncheons of a big city.

* PARENT-TEACHERS MEETING TODAY AT FERGUS FALLS *

Fergus Falls, Minn., Oct. 18. — (UP) —
The fifth annual state convention of Parent-Teachers' associations opened here today with indications that a record number of delegates would be in attendance at the sessions which close Thursday.

Registration this morning was followed by the opening business session with Mrs. A. A. Mendenhall, Duluth, state president, in charge.

Superintendent W. O. Lippitt, president of the Fergus Falls council, will preside at the banquet tonight.

* GOOD OLD FASHIONED RELIGION ENDORSED BY GREAT SCIENTIST *

Kansas City, Mo., Oct. 18. — (UP) —
"Good old fashioned religion" gained the endorsement of one of the world's leading scientists, when Dr. Otto J. Kauffman, professor emeritus of the University of Birmingham in England addressed the Men's Church club here.

"We are living in an age of progress and great scientific discoveries," Dr. Kauffman said.
"Yet there is no reason why scientific discoveries should cloud our religious beliefs. Science pushes back its questions and finds a cause for every phenomena but there comes at last a wall beyond which no cause can be found."

OIL TANKER MAY HAVE SAVED GOMEZ

NOSED ITS WAY INTO THE WORLD OF ADVEN-TURE

GOMEX IS CHIEF SURVIVING REVOLUTIONARY LEADER

By G. F. FINE
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Mexico City, Oct. 18. — A prosaic oil tanker, such as rescued Ruth Elder at sea, may have nosed its way into the world of adventure by saving from execution General Ar-naldo Gomez, chief surviving revolutionary leader.

General Alvarez, chief of staff of President Calles, advanced the suggestion in a press conference that Gomez today might be safe aboard a little coastal tanker, making his way to the West Indies or the United States and safety.

Three federal columns, Alvarez said, had pursued Gomez for nine days without finding trace of him.
All they had to offer was the news that at last report Gomez was making for the Huasteco district, still in the Vera Cruz mountains but only 50 miles from the town of Vera Cruz and the chance of escape by sea.

RECOMMEND INCREASE OF TARIFF ON SOUTH AMERICAN CORN

Washington, Oct. 18. — (UP) — Increase of the tariff duties on South American corn was recommended today to President Coolidge by Senator McMaster, Republican, South Dakota. Iowa authorities recently also recommended such a course. McMaster said a 50 per cent duty instead of the present 15 per cent duty is necessary to protect American producers against South American grain which now in some cases comes in as ballast.

Long Prairie, Minn., Oct. 18. — (UP) — Funeral services will be held Wednesday for August Den-len, 103-year-old Minnesota pioneer, who died in the little log house he built on the land he

He would have been 104 years old in two weeks.

DYNAMITE STICK STUBS FOUND NEAR MINE

WINDOWS IN BUILDINGS NEAR
EXPLOSION

TELEPHONE AND TELEGRAPH POLES AND WIRES TORN DOWN

Steubenville, O., Oct. 18. — (UP) —
The United States Coal Company mine near Bradley, 18 miles south of Steubenville, was destroyed today by a dynamite blast.

Windows in buildings surrounding the mine were shattered by the explosion. Telephone and telegraph poles and wires were torn down and communication with Bradley was impossible for a time this morning.
Seventeen dynamite stick stubs were found near the wrecked mine tippie.

According to Sheriff Allison, information was received this morning from mysterious sources that the Bradley explosion was the signal for miners to march on the Winston-Dear mine near Smith field, seven miles from Bradley. The Winston-Dear mine is owned by Pittsburgh Interests.

Officials of district number 6 of the United Mine Workers at Bellaire were notified of the explosion and informed that they would be held responsible if any further blasts occurred. Men were being deputized in an effort to protect the mine district, which again has flared into a reign of terror.

LAYS ACCIDENT TO BLINDING LIGHTS

Minneapolis, Minn., Oct. 18. —
(UP) — Attorneys for Louis LaRose, on trial for manslaughter in connection with the death of Bert W. Peterson, who died after being struck by an automobile, today reversed their stand on the previous trial, and admitted that LaRose was present at the fatal accident.

LaRose was tried on the same charge a month ago, but the jury disagreed upon a verdict and was discharged.

The state rested its case in the second trial today. Attorneys for LaRose admitted their client was at the scene of the accident but that blinding lights from an approaching machine prevented him from seeing Peterson.

The case probably will reach the jury late today.

SMOKING IN MODERATION NOT HARMFUL

Kansas City, Mo., Oct. 18. — (UP) — Smoking in moderation is not harmful, according to Sir John F. H. Broadbent, London heart specialist, but smoking to excess is, and is harder on women than on men.

Sir John gave the convention of the Southwest Clinical society and the Interstate Post-graduate Medical association of North America statistics dealing with the effect of tobacco on the heart.

He said his observations led to the above conclusions, and gave as a reason for the more harmful effect on women the fact that man's nervous system is not as excitable as woman's.

MICE AND 5 CANARIES IN BATTLE TO DEATH

Minneapolis, Oct. 18. — (UP) — A battle to the death between mice and five canaries in the window of a pawnshop here was viewed last night by a score of pedestrians.

The canaries finally caused the mice to retreat, but only after two of the songsters had been slain.

* 5 DENVER BOYS USED POWER LINE IN TRAPEZE TRICKS *

Denver, Colo., Oct. 18. — (UP) — Five Denver boys were in the detention home here today because they performed trapeze tricks on a high-powered tension wire, carrying 25,000 volts.

Police saw the boys going hand over hand on the wire across an alley and decided they would be safer under arrest.

CASE MAY HAVE BEEN TRIPLE MURDER

NOT DOUBLE SLAYING AND SUI-CIDE AS CHICAGO AUTHORI-TIES SUPPOSED

POLICE RENEW THEIR INVESTI-GATIONS TO SOLVE
MYSTERY

Chicago, Oct. 18. — (UP) — Possibility that the death of two young women and their escort here early yesterday was a triple murder instead of a double slaying and suicide caused police to renew their investigation today.

It was at first believed that Wilfred Winter, 21, shot his sweetheart, Margaret Martin, 18, when she refused to marry him; killed Catherine Stadler, 19, simply because she was in the car; threw their bodies out of the automobile, and then shot himself. The car crashed into a telephone pole, but the bullet, not the crash, killed Winter.

Frank Eckdahl, who lives near the scene of the slaying, told police, however, that he heard four shots close together, and that then the bodies of the girls were thrown out of the car. There were no other shots, he said. Police doubted whether Winter could have thrown the bodies out had he shot himself at the same time he shot the girls.

A tentative theory was advanced that a fourth man in the car had killed the three to rob them. Winter's purse was not found on his body.

SAYS THAT NO CURE HAS BEEN FOUND FOR INFANTILE PARALYSIS

Kansas City, Mo., Oct. 18. — (UP) — Dr.
Milton J. Rosenau, professor of preventive medicine and hygiene at Harvard, admitted that no cure had been found for infantile paralysis, although a serum was under experimentation now and encouraging results had been effected. He spoke to several thousand medical men in attendance at the post-graduate medical meeting here.

"We are still in the dark regarding the cause and cure of the disease which has swept the country," the noted scientist said, "but we have established some facts regarding it and before long may have a definite conclusion regarding its cause and cure."

Sir John F. H. Broadbent, F. R. C.
P., London, England, appearing on the same program, discussed phases of heart disease. He said he did not believe that athletic games tended to endanger heart action, as is popularly believed. Normal hearts, he believed, are capable of adaptation to necessity of strenuous exercise.

Rep. Royal C. Johnson of South Dakota Has Infection of Foot

C. Johnson, who is suffering from infection of the foot. The disorder was ing guilty to robbing Herman Lehman of $22 last April, Thurman Lewter, 23, reformatory at St. Cloud, and Joseph Sommerhauser, 28, to the same term at the penitentiary at Stillwater.

ALBERT B. FALL APPEARS PROMPTLY IN COURT ROOM

HAD BEEN UNDER CARE OF HIS PHYSICIAN DURING THE NIGHT

ATTORNEYS CONTINUE PROCESS OF COMPLETING THE JURY

By HERBERT LITTLE
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Washington, Oct. 18. — Fears in some quarters that a delay might be caused in the Fall-Sinclair oil conspiracy trial were dissipated today when former Secretary of the Interior Albert B. Fall appeared at the trial a few minutes early.

He had been under the care of his physician overnight, due to a cold and a cough. Attorney Mark
B. Thompson said Fall becomes fev-ered when wearied.

With Fall on hand, the attorneys were free to continue their process of completing the jury which, in tentative form, included three women. Fall and Harry F. Sinclair, oil magnate, are on trial on charges of conspiracy to defraud the government in the giant Teapot Dome oil lease deal.

A second panel of 26 prospective jurors was called to fill the one vacant seat at the opening of court.
Seven peremptory challenges remaining on each side, if exercised, may exhaust this panel if part of those called can be challenged for cause as a result of "fixed opinions"
as to guilt or innocence of Albert B.
Fall, former secretary of the interior, and Harry F. Sinclair, multimillionaire oil man. Fall and Sinclair are charged with conspiracy to defraud the government in the Teapot Dome oil lease.

Owen J. Roberts, prosecution chief, said he expected the jury to be accepted and the government's case started before the end of today's session. Identification of a great mass of documents by government officials will take several hours, he estimated.

Under the new District of Columbia "volunteer woman jury service law," women may refuse to serve.
The four called at the opening session yesterday all seemed eager for jury duty. One was excused because she had made up her mind on the case.

Mrs. Anna L. Bailey, attractive brunette, may be the jury foreman, as she was the first person accepted.
The remainder of the tentative jury follows:

No. 2—Miss Bernice Heaton, long distance telephone instructor. No.
3—Charles E. Hennessey, 51, retired postoffice employee. No. 4—Edward T. Dent, 39, bank teller. No. 5—Conrad J. Herzog, 56, automobile sales manager. No. 6—Armand Fen-derville, 48, pastry chef. No. 7—
John P. Kern, 32, salesman. No. 8
Brandon W. Holmes, 34, department store floor manager. No. 9—vacant. No. 10—Joe A. Jololske, 32, painter. No. 11—Edward J. Kidwell, 31, leather-worker. No. 12—Mrs. Pauline Leavitt.

Mrs. Leavitt is the mother of three children, and has some grey in her unbobbed black hair. Mrs.
Bailey and Miss Heaton both have bobbed hair.

two pairs of trousers with the uniform "so it will do for two or three

1929 SURPLUS IS GOVERNING FACTOR IN CASE

SHOULD BE KEPT CLOSE
TO $250,000,000

REVENUES FROM RAILROAD SECURITIES EXHAUSTED
THIS YEAR

Washington, Oct. 18. — (UP) — The treasury will advise the house ways and means committee when it goes before that body Oct. 31 that any tax reduction recommended to the next congress should be kept to $250,000,000.

Officials said today after a month's study of government revenues that the governing factor for a tax reduction will be the 1929 surplus. It was estimated the surplus for the current fiscal year would reach nearly $600,000,000 because of back tax collections of nearly $300,000,000 and $170,000,000 receipts from government-owned railroad securities.

The 1929 surplus will be only about $300,000,000 as revenues from railroad securities will be exhausted this year, and back tax collections will drop to about $150,000,000 annually, it was stated.

Cases pending before the U. S. board of tax appeals involve $500,000,000 and the government expects 60 per cent of them to be settled in its favor, thus swelling the future surplus.

Officials indicated the treasury would recommend a 1 per cent reduction on the present 13 1/2 per cent corporation tax, a slight cut in maximum surtaxes and elimination of many of the remaining taxes.

Recommendation of Chairman Smoot of the senate finance committee that taxes be cut $350,000,000 was viewed as excessive. Officials said the cut could total $250,000,000 without the government running a deficit, but any figure over this amount would mean financial difficulties.

FRIENDS OF DUVALL CALL MASS MEETING

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 18. — (UP) — Another mass meeting was called by friends of Mayor John Duvall for tonight, to arouse sympathy for "Protestant officeholders now persecuted by Catholic democrats and disgruntled republicans."

Duvall is remaining in office as mayor of Indianapolis despite his conviction and sentence on charges of violating the corrupt practices act and his resultant disfranchisement. He declared he would act as mayor until his appeal from the sentence was acted upon.

United States Senator Heflin of Alabama will be the principal speaker at the mass meeting, it was announced.

Meantime the grand jury continued its investigation of charges of political corruption in Indiana, with a score of witnesses slated to appear.

WOMAN TIPPED SIR THOS. LIPTON HALF A DOLLAR

New York, Oct. 18. — (UP) — The yachting cap affected by Sir Thomas Lipton proved a money maker for the multi-millionaire while en route to the United States aboard the Leviathan.

A woman passenger, presumably near-sighted, called Sir Thomas to her deck chair.

"Steward," she said, "will you please bring me a rug?"

Without comment Sir Thomas found the desired blanket and brought it to the woman.

"Thank you," and she tipped him fifty cents.

Sir Thomas bowed low and walked away. He kept the half dollar.

ACTS OF JULIUS ADAMS, NOW
RESIGNED, ARE RE-VIEWED

FICIAL, CONDUCTED
EXAMINATION

St. Paul, Oct. 18. — (UP) — A city treasurer who used St. Cloud funds to conduct his personal business as a cigar dealer today came under fire of the state public examiner.

Garfield W. Brown, the official who conducted the investigation, found a shortage of $4,900 in the books extending over a period from Jan. 1, 1923, to Aug. 2, 1927.

Confronted with fact of his defalcations, Julius Adams, commissioner of finance and city treasurer, repaid the amount July 26, 1927, and resigned before the audit was completed. There will be no prosecution, Mr. Brown said.

The treasurer had several times borrowed city funds to use in purchasing his supplies of cigars and tobacco, the examiner said, all of the loans with the exception of the $4,900 having been previously repaid.

Other disclosures that the St. Cloud purse strings were held none too tightly by Mr. Adams included, according to Mr. Brown:

Post dated checks and I. O. U.'s of city employees were carried on the books as cash.

Thousands of dollars paid out illegally through disregard of the city charter which requires that bids be called for on city purchases of $250 or over.

Payment of $5,450 to the St. Cloud municipal band from May 15, 1923, to Feb. 26, 1924, when a city ordinance specifically states that the band shall receive not over $2,000 yearly.

The water department carefully observed the charter limit of $250 on expenditures most of the time by purchasing meters in lots of 10, 20 and 30. Several times, however, Mr. Brown discovered the costs ran over the figure without bids having been called for.

RUTH ELDER AND HALDEMAN SAIL FOR LISBON

BOARDED PORTUGUESE STEAM-ER LIMA AT HORTA THIS MORNING

BIG CROWD ESCORTS AMERICAN
NIGHT

By MANUEL CAMARA
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Horta, Azores Islands, Oct. 18. — Ruth Elder and George Haldeman sailed aboard the Portuguese steamer Lima for Lisbon and Paris at 5 A. M. today.

Miss Elder went aboard the steamer late last night, intending to sleep through the ship's preparation for its departure at dawn.

She was escorted to the ship by a big crowd, surrounded by foreign colonists who entertained her during her surprise visit, and was cheered heartily as she went aboard.

"Good bye; I'll see you when I return next spring," said Miss Elder to the United Press correspondent as she shook hands aboard the Lima.

Miss Elder warmly hugged George Mackey, her host during her stay here; and George Haldeman, her companion, in turn hugged Mrs. Mackey.

Rain which kept Miss Elder indoors most of her stay and gave her the slight cold from which she was suffering resumed some time before she boarded the Lima.

The rain, however, did not lessen the enthusiasm of the crowd.

Many of the farewell crowd bore flowers. Miss Elder thanked people individually and collectively for the honor done her at Horta, and waved her captain's hat as she went below to a cabin.

Much of the time just before her arrival on the ship was taken up by autograph hunters, with all of whose demands for her signature she complied smilingly.

Photographers were after her all day Monday, and Miss Elder posed for them too—but only while sitting in a chair, for, she said, she could not bring herself to have her whole figure taken in the long frock she had borrowed from her more mature hostess.

Miss Elder said last night, as she prepared to board the Lima, that she and Haldeman probably would fly from Lisbon to Paris and remain at the French capital for two weeks.

That showed that she has not much hope of getting a fast boat to France or England when the Lima reaches Funchal, Madeira, next Monday; but that she expected to stay on the ship until it reached Lisbon October 26.

It is an ending like that which marked the flight of Harry Hawker, pioneer of trans-ocean flyers. Hawker also landed at sea near a small steamer that did not even carry wireless. It took a week for the ship to get to port and tell the world Hawker and Commander Mackenzie Grieve, his companion, were alive.

Lindbergh, Chamberlin, Byrd and Brock and Schlee all landed in Europe, and had not far to go to reach the lights and formal luncheons of a big city.

PARENT-TEACHERS MEETING TODAY AT FERGUS FALLS

Officers' reports will occupy most of Wednesday, with the election of officers scheduled for Thursday morning.

GOOD OLD FASHIONED RELIGION ENDORSED BY GREAT SCIENTIST

Kansas City, Mo., Oct. 18. — (UP) — "Good old fashioned religion" gained the endorsement of one of the world's leading scientists, when Dr. Otto J. Kauffman, professor emeritus of the University of Birmingham in England addressed the Men's Church club here.

"We are living in an age of progress and great scientific discoveries," Dr. Kauffman said. "Yet there is no reason why scientific discoveries should cloud our religious beliefs. Science pushes back its questions and finds a cause for every phenomena but there comes at last a wall beyond which no cause can be found."

LEADER

By G. F. FINE
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Mexico City, Oct. 18. — A prosaic oil tanker, such as rescued Ruth Elder at sea, may have nosed its way into the world of adventure by saving from execution General Arnulfo Gomez, chief surviving revolutionary leader.

General Alvarez, chief of staff of President Calles, advanced the suggestion in a press conference that Gomez today might be safe aboard a little coastal tanker, making his way to the West Indies or the United States and safety.

Three federal columns, Alvarez said, had pursued Gomez for nine days without finding trace of him.

All they had to offer was the news that at last report Gomez was making for the Huastaco district, still in the Vera Cruz mountains but only 50 miles from the town of Vera Cruz and the chance of escape by sea.

DYNAMITE STICK STUBS FOUND NEAR MINE

WINDOWS IN BUILDINGS NEAR
EXPLOSION

DOWN

Steubenville, O., Oct. 18. — (UP) — The United States Coal Company mine near Bradley, 18 miles south of Steubenville, was destroyed today by a dynamite blast.

Windows in buildings surrounding the mine were shattered by the explosion. Telephone and telegraph poles and wires were torn down and communication with Bradley was impossible for a time this morning. Seventeen dynamite stick stubs were found near the wrecked mine tipples.

According to Sheriff Allison, information was received this morning from mysterious sources that the Bradley explosion was the signal for miners to march on the Winston-Dear mine near Smith field, seven miles from Bradley. The Winston-Dear mine is owned by Pittsburgh interests.

Officials of district number 6 of the United Mine Workers at Bellaire were notified of the explosion and informed that they would be held responsible if any further blasts occurred. Men were being deputized in an effort to protect the mine district, which again has flared into a reign of terror.

LAYS ACCIDENT TO BLINDING LIGHTS

Minneapolis, Minn., Oct. 18. — (UP) — Attorneys for Louis LaRose, on trial for manslaughter in connection with the death of Bert W. Peterson, who died after being struck by an automobile, today reversed their stand on the previous trial, and admitted that LaRose was present at the fatal accident.

LaRose was tried on the same charge a month ago, but the jury disagreed upon a verdict and was discharged.

The state rested its case in the second trial today. Attorneys for LaRose admitted their client was at the scene of the accident but that blinding lights from an approaching machine prevented him from seeing Peterson.

The case probably will reach the jury late today.

SMOKING IN MODERATION NOT HARMFUL

Kansas City, Mo., Oct. 18. — (UP) — Smoking in moderation is not harmful, according to Sir John F. H. Broadbent, London heart specialist, but smoking to excess is, and is harder on women than on men.

Sir John gave the convention of the Southwest Clinical society and the Interstate Post-graduate Medical association of North America statistics dealing with the effect of tobacco on the heart.

He said his observations led to the above conclusions, and gave as a reason for the more harmful effect on women the fact that man's nervous system is not as excitable as woman's.

NOT DOUBLE SLAYING AND SUI-CIDE AS CHICAGO AUTHORI-TIES SUPPOSED

POLICE RENEW THEIR INVESTI-GATIONS TO SOLVE
MYSTERY

Chicago, Oct. 18. — (UP) — Possibility that the death of two young women and their escort here early yesterday was a triple murder instead of a double slaying and suicide caused police to renew their investigation today.

It was at first believed that Wilfred Winter, 21, shot his sweetheart, Margaret Martin, 18, when she refused to marry him; killed Catherine Stadler, 19, simply because she was in the car; threw their bodies out of the automobile, and then shot himself. The car crashed into a telephone pole, but the bullet, not the crash, killed Winter.

Frank Eckdahl, who lives near the scene of the slaying, told police, however, that he heard four shots close together, and that then the bodies of the girls were thrown out of the car. There were no other shots, he said. Police doubted whether Winter could have thrown the bodies out had he shot himself at the same time he shot the girls.

A tentative theory was advanced that a fourth man in the car had killed the three to rob them. Winter's purse was not found on his body.

SAYS THAT NO CURE HAS BEEN FOUND FOR INFANTILE PARALYSIS

Kansas City, Mo., Oct. 18. — (UP) — Dr. Milton J. Rosenau, professor of preventive medicine and hygiene at Harvard, admitted that no cure had been found for infantile paralysis, although a serum was under experimentation now and encouraging results had been effected. He spoke to several thousand medical men in attendance at the post-graduate medical meeting here.

"We are still in the dark regarding the cause and cure of the disease which has swept the country," the noted scientist said, "but we have established some facts regarding it and before long may have a definite conclusion regarding its cause and cure."

Sir John F. H. Broadbent, F. R. C. P., London, England, appearing on the same program, discussed phases of heart disease. He said he did not believe that athletic games tended to endanger heart action, as is popularly believed. Normal hearts, he believed, are capable of adaptation to necessity of strenuous exercise.

ALBERT B. FALL APPEARS PROMPTLY IN COURT ROOM

PHYSICIAN DURING THE NIGHT

OF COMPLETING THE JURY

By HERBERT LITTLE
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Washington, Oct. 18. — Fears in some quarters that a delay might be caused in the Fall-Sinclair oil conspiracy trial were dissipated today when former Secretary of the Interior Albert B. Fall appeared at the trial a few minutes early.

He had been under the care of his physician overnight, due to a cold and a cough. Attorney Mark B. Thompson said Fall becomes fevered when wearied.

With Fall on hand, the attorneys were free to continue their process of completing the jury which, in tentative form, included three women. Fall and Harry F. Sinclair, oil magnate, are on trial on charges of conspiracy to defraud the government in the giant Teapot Dome oil lease deal.

A second panel of 26 prospective jurors was called to fill the one vacant seat at the opening of court. Seven peremptory challenges remaining on each side, if exercised, may exhaust this panel if part of those called can be challenged for cause as a result of "fixed opinions" as to guilt or innocence of Albert B. Fall, former secretary of the interior, and Harry F. Sinclair, multi-millionaire oil man. Fall and Sinclair are charged with conspiracy to defraud the government in the Teapot Dome oil lease.

Owen J. Roberts, prosecution chief, said he expected the jury to be accepted and the government's case started before the end of today's session. Identification of a great mass of documents by government officials will take several hours, he estimated.

Under the new District of Columbia "volunteer woman jury service law," women may refuse to serve. The four called at the opening session yesterday all seemed eager for jury duty. One was excused because she had made up her mind on the case.

Mrs. Annella L. Bailey, attractive brunnette, may be the jury foreman, as she was the first person accepted. The remainder of the tentative jury follows:

No. 2—Miss Bernice Heaton, long distance telephone instructor. No. 3—Charles E. Hennessey, 51, retired postoffice employee. No. 4—Edward T. Dent, 39, bank teller. No. 5—Conrad J. Herzog, 58, automobile sales manager. No. 6—Armand Fenderville, 48, pastry chef. No. 7—John P. Kern, 32, salesman. No. 8—Brandon W. Holmes, 34, department store floor manager. No. 9—vacant. No. 10—Joe A. Jololske, 32, painter. No. 11—Edward J. Kidwell, 31, leather worker. No. 12—Mrs. Pauline Leavitt.

Mrs. Leavitt is the mother of three children, and has some grey in her unbobbed black hair. Mrs. Bailey and Miss Heaton both have bobbed hair.

CROSBY-IRONTON BREAKS THROUGH BRAINERD FOR TWO TOUCHDOWNS

LARGE CROWDS SEE C-I WIN AT
THE N. P. FIELD,
13-0

Brainerd's winning streak was broken by Crosby-Ironton in the local's first home game.

Although the game was lost on Saturday, and the score indicates the relative merits of the teams, we hope for the best in the coming week. In the second half, Brainerd held the Crosby squad on an equal basis, and showed that it had the stuff of which good football teams are made. The Crosby team, welded together thru several years by an excellent coach, is heavier in the line than either Staples or Little Falls, and against that solid rock formation our boys battered in vain. Brainerd gives due credit to the C-I players, but hopes that the experience of the next three games will develop their technique and head-work so that the score at that time may tell a different tale.

Brainerd pulled off some excellent forward passes, but did not show at crucial moments the headwork and teamwork that might have led to victory. This was disappointing not only to the record breaking crowd assembled to cheer on the team, but also to Mr. Kasch, who expected much more of the boys who have brought home two victories.

First quarter—Crosby won the toss and decided to receive. Crosby returned the ball to mid-field by downs. Crosby punted and Buscher returned to the 30-yard line. On the 4th down Brainerd's kick was blocked on the 25-yard line. Crosby got a touchdown on line plunges and a point after touchdown. On the next plays Brainerd showed her first real playing of the game, Fuller and Hautala taking the ball.

Second quarter—Crosby-Ironton made 40 yards on a punt when Buscher failed to recover. Crosby-Ironton went through for a touchdown on end runs.

Third quarter—Brainerd received the kick-off. Play saw-sawed back and forth. Brainerd started an aerial attack but completed only two passes.

Fourth quarter—Brainerd completed a pass for ten yards. Wise was put in for Buscher. Wise returned a punt 20 yards. A. Hautala substituted for Wise. Wise being hurt. Barnes nearly reached a long pass as the play ended.

Failure to take the breaks of the game and fumbling cost Brainerd the game.

Line-up:
Brainerd—Guin, lc; LaCourse, lt; Greener, lg; Ellison, c; Hanson, rg; Cregier, rt; Barnes, re; Buscher, qb; Swanson, lb; Hautala, rh; Fuller, rb.
Crosby-Ironton—Butorice, lc; L. Oberg, lt; F. Oberg, rg; Swanson, rg; Fredericksen, rg; Chupich, rt; Ostrom, re; Smart, qb; Bloom, lb; Pomeroy, rh; Radosevich, rb.

OUTDOOR CLUB WILL INCREASE ACTIVITIES

Although conducted and managed by local adult organizers, the Outdoor Sports club, which held its first important meeting last Wednesday, should be of special interest to us, the high school students. Last year this club turned its attention to the construction and maintenance of a municipal skating rink. Having been successful last year in this the aims have been broadened this year to include the forming of a hiking club and the construction of skiing and toboggan slides, besides rebuilding the skating rink. With these various accomplishments being attempted, there must surely be one phase of this program which will interest every one of the students, as well as the towns people. Of course we shall feel at home in this club, but to strengthen this feeling we shall have four or five of the faculty on the various committees and, we hope, practically all of them as members.

You're likely to see two seemingly respectable members of the student body glare at each other as they pass. Don't feel shocked. There's no personal enmity existing. It's just a Blue and a Red expressing temporary rivalry which will be settled by the time honored custom of having the losers banquet the winners. The number of tickets sold decides the matter.

Considering the work which is to be accomplished and the joys to be obtained by a membership in this club, the officers feel certain that the students will respond to the sale of tickets, and each become an active member throughout a busy winter.

PEP AROUSED AT OUTDOOR PEP FEST

STUDENTS BREW PEP FOR GAME WITH BON-FIRE, SNAKE DANCE

To the bon-fire! Onward Brainerd rooters! To the valley (literally) of enthusiasm raced the mad students. And then "All together now." "Rah! Rah! Rah! Team!" Varied and interest-provoking were the sights and sounds greeting interested onlookers, last Friday afternoon, as football enthusiastic students wound through town. They were on their way to the football field for an outdoor pep-fest, and wanted the town to know it. Something big was up, and as everybody learned, the students were aware of, and advertising the fact. Through the zealous efforts of "Billy" and "Muff," a large pile of old boxes had been gathered on the field, and awaited the pleasure of the flaming match. When the crowd had gathered around and said match had been applied, the "fest" began in earnest. After the team and players were cheered, "Pop" Gridley and "Muff" Downie obliged by giving a few appropriate remarks relating to the tomorrow's game and backing-up of the team. After the concluding yells were given, the student body adjourned, keyed up for the game and each pledging his whole-hearted support.

THAT SENIOR PICNIC

The Seniors had a picnic, On the shores of Gilbert lake. They all arrived in safety. And in fun, there, did partake.

Just as they arrived there, It began to rain and blow. Then towards the large pavilion They all began to go.

Then they played a lot of games, "Flying Dutchman" and "Three Deep."

The floor was very slippery. And some fell in a heap.

Then they got some boats and lo! They all went for a ride. The rain was nearly over then. And they rowed round side by side.

At last came bounteous lunch, In which they all united. A good time was enjoyed by all. For no one had been slighted.

CLASS SELECT MISS BOWERS AND MISS OLSON AD- VISORS

Carl Zapffe presided over his first meeting Monday, Oct. 10.

As advisors are necessary to a class, that subject was brought up first. When the votes were counted it was found that Miss Bowers and Miss Olson were to pull the class thru all its difficulties.

The subject of a party was brought up as is usually the case at the first class meeting. It was agreed that their first party of the year was to be a costume Halloween party, coming the Friday before Halloween. Those who come must pay 50c at the door. This will be counted as part of the year's dues. Come on Juniors! Let's be there with our dues and start the year with the proper spirit.

Another meeting was held by the Juniors Monday night. It was decided to have the fifty cents paid to Malcolm Ellison by noon Friday, the 28th. The president appointed entertainment, refreshment and decoration committees to help make the party a success.

Who, What and Where

Henry Viken had the misfortune to break his nose in football practice last Tuesday night. We hope that this will not keep us from winning the rest of the games.

The Home Training classes have received their new books, which prove to be very interesting.

Miss Taylor has issued the warning that all Seniors of her English classes must have their new English books by Monday. Of course we are all anxious to start using them.

Tuesday there was an explosion in the Chemistry room. Little damage was done.

Miss Iverson substituted Thursday for Miss Graham.

We are all glad to hear that everyone passed all his six weeks quizzes and made the honor roll.

On Monday morning the B. H. S. students pondered over their first Minimum-Essentials Test of this year.

Mr. Kasch is a very busy man these days. To use his own expression, he is busier than a hen with twenty-five little chicks.

Monday afternoon the Seniors held a meeting to reconsider the question of senior pictures. After the propositions had been submitted, Mr. Kelly was again chosen to do the work. The final report on rings was submitted and the prices and styles given to the class. Money is to be paid to Irene Molstad by Wednesday for the first order of rings and pins. Rings are $6.50, $7.00 and $7.25, and pins $3.50.

High Students Practice

Fire Drill on Monday

Monday morning at the close of the second period our attention was arrested by the violent clanging of the bell downstairs.

We immediately rushed out into the hall and hurried out of the building.

As soon as we were properly settled in our various classrooms and in the assembly again, another alarm was sounded and the same action repeated.

It was noticed on the second alarm that things were done in a more orderly way than at first.

It took about one and one quarter minutes to empty the school of its some five hundred students.

T. J. LYNNELL SPEAKS AT SCHOOL DURING FIRE PREVENTION WEEK

Students Add Trapeze To H. S. Gym Equipment

The latest addition to the high school is a trapeze that is hung from a projection in the gym. That is the latest from an ingenious mind.

As a certain pupil of the B. H. S. was walking home from the daily routine in school he devised in his mind a plan for the construction of a thing called a trapeze. Then, after getting permission from the school board for the construction of such a thing, he got a carpenter, and with the aid of another boy and the proper tools put it up before ten-thirty the same night.

If you had been in the assembly the seventh period Friday, you would have heard a lively bump. This was none other than Donald McNamara, the fellow who was kind-hearted enough to help Dale Sanders in the construction. The carpenter who assisted was Mr. White. Personally, I think that he did all the work.

B. H. S. FACULTY ENJOY STAR ISLAND

TEACHERS ARE MUCH IMPRESSED BY THE BEAUTIES OF CASS LAKE

On Friday a number of the B. H. S. faculty, and some of their friends left for a week-end trip to Star Island Lodge, in Cass Lake. The high school teachers included the Misses Richard, O'Brien, Erstad, Amundson, Tornstrom, Johnson, Reinertson, Van Beek and Stickney, and Mr. Eiden. Others who are not teachers of Brainerd high included Miss Michael, Miss Adair and Ed Tom O'Brien of Brainerd, Miss Grace Cedarstrand of Cloquet, and Miss Cora Cedarstrand of Gilbert.

After they had arrived at the town of Cass Lake, they enjoyed a fifteen-minute ride on a launch to Star Island. They arrived at mid-night, while the glorious moonlight which filtered through the yellow leaves made a scene never to be forgotten. The cold was not even noticed. At the Lodge, during the next two days, they partook of very appetizing meals, and spent their time walking among the stately Norway pines with which the island is blessed. Even swimming was enjoyed by a few of the more adventurous type. Mr. Rickard, the proprietor of this lodge, is a most congenial host, and everyone regretted having to return so soon.

BIOLOGY COLLECTIONS

Irene Quinn, a graduate of the class of '21 has loaned Miss Laipple a collection of Marine Animals which she gathered at Wood's Hole Mass.

Irene attended Carleton one year. It was here that she earned the scholarship which took her to Columbia university to complete her education.

This summer she went to the Marine Biological Station at Wood's Hole, Mass. This station is a school to which people go to collect specimens. The specimens which number twenty-two are to be seen in the book case in Miss Laipple's room.

Miss Laipple's biology students wish to thank Rose Lukens for the collection which she has placed in Miss Laipple's room. The students are surely bringing in a lot of specimens, both live and preserved.

SAYS DISEASE CALLED "FIRE WASTE" IS CAUSED BY CARELESSNESS

Mr. T. J. Lynnell, special agent for the Fire Prevention League, addressed the student body last Wednesday. The subject of Mr. Lynnell's talk was The Relation of Fire Prevention to the American Citizen.

Mr. Lynnell stated that the United States is suffering from a disease called "fire waste." The cause of the disease for the greater part is carelessness and the only cure known is fire prevention.

It is estimated by the fire underwriters that only fifty per cent of annual billion dollar fire loss is covered by insurance. If it increases as fast in the next twenty years as it did in the past twenty years it will reach over four billion dollars and thus be one of the largest political issues in the country.

He also explained that the loss in the U. S. each year is equal to a sum of five times the value of all the gold and silver mined in this country that year. It is also equal to a sum three times as great as would be necessary to complete the St. Lawrence-Great Lakes Waterway, including a canal connecting the Great Lakes with the Mississippi and completion of a program for the prevention of floods in the lower Mississippi river area such as they experienced this year.

Mr. Lynnell's concluding statement was that 15,000 human lives were lost last year, 85 per cent of which were women and children and that an average of five schools burn in the U. S. each day.

The Real Dope on That Baptist Convention

Monday evening last week we received summons from our chief, Mr. Newton, to appear at the Baptist church to help guide the people to their lodgings. It was uncanny the way they picked the lodgings for all that I guided lodged over a mile and a half from the church and as I had to walk back, the next morning in school my brains were all worn out from being on my feet all the time.

The first night our duties were to show the people to their lodgings and to run errands too numerous to mention.

Carl Zapffe who was in charge, surely knows how to give orders. For a while he was sitting down in the basement talking but soon he was the busiest of the bunch.

The most hectic time was between 4:30 and 7 o'clock. The following Scouts were under Carl's and Mr. Newton's supervision: Joe Heald, Malcolm Ellison, Alvin Antonson, James Richards, Ferdinand Fredrickson, and Carl Holvick.

We worked in shifts of two, but on Monday evening we were all busy. Tuesday, and Wednesday there wasn't much going on, but the different speakers gave some very interesting speeches.

The Assembly Clock

As we sit in assembly earnestly studying or wrapped in pensive thought has it ever occurred to you that the majority of our actions are governed by a solitary object?

Up there in front of us it is suspended, its benign countenance smiling down upon us with the air of an old patriarch who means to stand or succeeding generations to gaze upon.

Sometimes it even seems a bit human. Its curious whimsicalities, its little errors as to the matter of correctness, its occasional refusals to operate because of improper attention, all tend to give it a personality of its own.

How unlike the rest of the surroundings it is. Through all the bustle and turmoil it alone remains undisturbed, sedately moving along its destined path, always the same and never once changing.

If some morning we should find it gone from its usual place, how discontented we should feel. Few of us realize that we find a true friend and a real comfort and assurance in the old assembly clock.

Senior: What's the difference between a red onion and a white one?
Fresh: I don't know.

Senior: You don't know your onions.

Miss Marshall, trying to get freshman to say "I ate": John, what did you do this morning after you washed your face?
John: I dried it.

STUDENTS ASSIGNED TO PERMANENT SEATS

Between the dark and the daylight Comes a patter of little feet (though they weren't little, some of them)

What is the necessity of all this? Well, I suppose I must tell you what it is. It is what happened Wednesday, the first half hour.

There was assembly call, and out from the smaller assemblies rushed the lower classmen, pushing and crowding in order to find their way to the assembly. You can't guess why. They were trying to find with whom they were to sit. I suppose Roger Callahan was trying to find Lester Cregier, for, as you probably already know, that couple must sit together.

Each row was supervised by a member of the faculty, and what a hard time was there to get everyone properly seated. Then there were some who couldn't find seats. At intervals could be heard voices inquiring, "Which is the eleventh row?" or "Which is the seventh seat?" and once in a while "Do the seats number from the front or from the back?" but more frequently "Who is so-and-so?"

The persons not having seats were instructed to get theirs sometime that morning, but when everyone was called to the assembly the third period to hear the speaker there were more without seats (!) than there were before.

The third period was so taken up that it was useless to return to third period classes. You can imagine what a look of disappointment there was on the faces of those who were called away from their quizzes, but the speaker—but that is different I shouldn't be talking about that. However, there were quizzes waiting for us the fourth period.

HUMOR

Sylvia E.: Say, Muff, where are you going?

Muff: To the engravers about the Braineronian.

Sylvia E.: Is it that dead?

Mr. Kasch (in Gym): This exercise is to make the feet strong.

Roger Callahan: Mine are too strong as it is.

Kathryne A.: What is the scientific name for brain fever?

Glennadean M.: Dandruff.

Clerk: Is this collar large enough for your husband?

Lady: Heavens, no, he could never get that over his head.

Miss Marshall: John, what is wrong with this sentence: "The toast was drank in silence?"

Tom H.: It should be: "The toast was et in silence."

Miss Laipple: We should always plant the strong seeds first. Roger, which would you plant first?

Roger Callahan: The onions.

A sharp report broke the tranquility of the air, and reverberated throughout the room. What was that? Everyone started to converse in low, well-modulated tones. Could it be that a warlike nation was approaching, and had dropped a bomb into the peaceful city of Brainerd? The heart of each person skipped a beat, as this dire possibility dawned upon them. Everyone waited with breathless silence for the next explosion. There was none, however, and soon we heard a laugh issuing from Winel Barnes' corner of the chemistry laboratory. He had been "experimenting" and the darn thing blew up, breaking a thistle tube, but no bones.

CROSBY-IRONTON BREAKS THROUGH BRAINERD FOR TWO TOUCHDOWNS

LARGE CROWDS SEE C-I WIN AT
THE N. P. FIELD,
13-0

Brainerd's winning streak was broken by Crosby-Ironton in the local's first home game.

Although the game was lost on Saturday, and the score indicates the relative merits of the teams, we hope for the best in the coming week. In the second half, Brainerd held the Crosby squad on an equal basis, and showed that it had the stuff of which good football teams are made. The Crosby team, welded together thru several years by an excellent coach, is heavier in the line than either Staples or Little Falls, and against that solid rock formation our boys battered in vain. Brainerd gives due credit to the C-I players, but hopes that the experience of the next three games will develop their technique and head-work so that the score at that time may tell a different tale.

Brainerd pulled off some excellent forward passes, but did not show at crucial moments the headwork and teamwork that might have led to victory. This was disappointing not only to the record breaking crowd assembled to cheer on the team, but also to Mr. Kasch, who expected much more of the boys who have brought home two victories.

First quarter—Crosby won the toss and decided to receive. Crosby returned the ball to mid-field by downs. Crosby punted and Buscher returned to the 30-yard line. On the 4th down Brainerd's kick was blocked on the 25-yard line. Crosby got a touchdown on line plunges and a point after touchdown. On the next plays Brainerd showed her first real playing of the game, Fuller and Hautala taking the ball.

Second quarter—Crosby-Ironton made 40 yards on a punt when Buscher failed to recover. Crosby-Ironton went through for a touchdown on end runs.

Third quarter—Brainerd received the kick-off. Play see-sawed back and forth. Brainerd started an aerial attack but completed only two passes.

Fourth quarter—Brainerd completed a pass for ten yards. Wise was put in for Buscher. Wise returned a punt 20 yards. A. Hautala substituted for Wise. Wise being hurt. Barnes nearly reached a long pass as the play ended.

Failure to take the breaks of the game and fumbling cost Brainerd the game.

Line-up:
Brainerd—Guin, le; LaCourse, lt; Greener, lg; Ellison, c; Hanson, rg; Greger, rt; Barnes, re; Buscher, qb; Swanson, lb; Hautala, rh; Fuller, rb.

OUTDOOR CLUB WILL INCREASE ACTIVITIES

Although conducted and managed by local adult organizers, the Outdoor Sports club, which held its first important meeting last Wednesday, should be of special interest to us, the high school students. Last year this club turned its attention to the construction and maintenance of a municipal skating rink. Having been successful last year in this the aims have been broadened this year to include the forming of a hiking club and the construction of skiing and toboggan slides, besides rebuilding the skating rink. With these various accomplishments being attempted, there must surely be one phase of this program which will interest every one of the students, as well as the towns people. Of course we shall feel at home in this club, but to strengthen this feeling we shall have four or five of the faculty on the various committees and, we hope, practically all of them as members.

You're likely to see two seemingly respectable members of the student body glare at each other as they pass. Don't feel shocked. There's no personal enmity existing. It's just a Blue and a Red expressing temporary rivalry which will be settled by the time honored custom of having the losers banquet the winners. The number of tickets sold decides the matter.

Considering the work which is to be accomplished and the joys to be obtained by a membership in this club, the officers feel certain that the students will respond to the sale of tickets, and each become an active member throughout a busy winter.

THAT SENIOR PICNIC

The Seniors had a picnic, On the shores of Gilbert lake. They all arrived in safety. And in fun, there, did partake.

Just as they arrived there, It began to rain and blow. Then towards the large pavilion They all began to go.

Then they played a lot of games, "Flying Dutchman" and "Three Deep."

The floor was very slippery, And some fell in a heap.

Then they got some boats and lo! They all went for a ride. The rain was nearly over then, And they rowed round side by side.

At last came bounteous lunch, In which they all united.

CLASS SELECT MISS BOWERS AND MISS OLSON AD-VISORS

Carl Zapffe presided over his first meeting Monday, Oct. 10.

As advisors are necessary to a class, that subject was brought up first. When the votes were counted it was found that Miss Bowers and Miss Olson were to pull the class thru all its difficulties.

The subject of a party was brought up as is usually the case at the first class meeting. It was agreed that their first party of the year was to be a costume Halloween party, coming the Friday before Halloween. Those who come must pay 50c at the door. This will be counted as part of the year's dues. Come on Juniors! Let's be there with our dues and start the year with the proper spirit.

Another meeting was held by the Juniors Monday night. It was decided to have the fifty cents paid to Malcolm Ellison by noon Friday, the 28th. The president appointed entertainment, refreshment and decoration committees to help make the party a success.

Who, What and Where

Henry Viken had the misfortune to break his nose in football practice last Tuesday night. We hope that this will not keep us from winning the rest of the games.

The Home Training classes have received their new books, which prove to be very interesting. Miss Taylor has issued the warning that all Seniors of her English classes must have their new English books by Monday. Of course we are all anxious to start using them.

Tuesday there was an explosion in the Chemistry room. Little damage was done.

Miss Iverson substituted Thursday for Miss Graham.

We are all glad to hear that everyone passed all his six weeks quizzes and made the honor roll.

On Monday morning the B. H. S. students pondered over their first Minimum-Essentials Test of this year.

Mr. Kasch is a very busy man these days. To use his own expression, he is busier than a hen with twenty-five little chicks.

Monday afternoon the Seniors held a meeting to reconsider the question of senior pictures. After the propositions had been submitted, Mr. Kelly was again chosen to do the work. The final report on rings was submitted and the prices and styles given to the class. Money is to be paid to Irene Molstad by Wednesday for the first order of rings and pins. Rings are $6.50, $7.00 and $7.25, and pins $2.50.

High Students Practice

Fire Drill on Monday

Monday morning at the close of the second period our attention was arrested by the violent clanging of the bell downstairs.

We immediately rushed out into the hall and hurried out of the building.

As soon as we were properly settled in our various classrooms and in the assembly again, another alarm was sounded and the same action repeated.

It was noticed on the second alarm that things were done in a more orderly way than at first.

It took about one and one quarter minutes to empty the school of its some five hundred students.

T. J. LYNNELL SPEAKS AT SCHOOL DURING FIRE PREVENTION WEEK

Walter Engbretson, '26, a student of the Hamline U. visited at the Engbretson home this week end. Isabel Erickson, a graduate of '27, has accepted a position as bookkeeper in the Bredenberg Grocery store.

Margaret O'Brien, of '27, who is attending the Minneapolis Business College, visited in Brainerd during the week end.

Lena Gravelle and Alice Johnson, both of '27, are employed at the Nash-Finch Company.

Calvin Orth, '27, was home over the week end. Cal is going to Macalester College this year.

Marion Linnemann is here for the week end. Marion graduated in '27, and is now studying Technician Course at St. Mary's hospital in Duluth. Rose Koering, also of '27, is taking nursing in the same hospital.

Students Add Trapeze To H. S. Gym Equipment

The latest addition to the high school is a trapeze that is hung from a projection in the gym. That is the latest from an ingenious mind.

As a certain pupil of the B. H. S. was walking home from the daily routine in school he devised in his mind a plan for the construction of a thing called a trapeze. Then, after getting permission from the school board for the construction of such a thing, he got a carpenter, and with the aid of another boy and the proper tools put it up before ten-thirty the same night.

If you had been in the assembly the seventh period Friday, you would have heard a lively bump. This was none other than Donald McNamara, the fellow who was kind-hearted enough to help Dale Sanders in the construction. The carpenter who assisted was Mr. White. Personally, I think that he did all the work.

B. H. S. FACULTY ENJOY STAR ISLAND

TEACHERS ARE MUCH IMPRESSED BY THE BEAUTIES OF CASS LAKE

On Friday a number of the B. H. S. faculty, and some of their friends left for a week-end trip to Star Island Lodge, in Cass Lake. The high school teachers included the Misses Rickard, O'Brien, Erstad, Amundson, Tornstrom, Johnson, Reinertson, Van Beek and Stickney, and Mr. Elden. Others who are not teachers of Brainerd high included Miss Michael, Miss Adair and Ed Tom O'Brien of Brainerd, Miss Grace Cedarstrand of Cloquet, and Miss Cora Cedarstrand of Gilbert.

After they had arrived at the town of Cass Lake, they enjoyed a fifteen-minute ride on a launch to Star Island. They arrived at midnight, while the glorious moonlight which filtered through the yellow leaves made a scene never to be forgotten. The cold was not even noticed. At the Lodge, during the next two days, they partook of very appetizing meals, and spent their time walking among the stately Norway pines with which the island is blessed. Even swimming was enjoyed by a few of the more adventurous type. Mr. Rickard, the proprietor of this lodge, is a most congenial host, and everyone regretted having to return so soon.

BIOLOGY COLLECTIONS

Irene Quinn, a graduate of the class of '21 has loaned Miss Laipple a collection of Marine Animals which she gathered at Wood's Hole Mass.

Irene attended Carleton one year. It was here that she earned the scholarship which took her to Columbia university to complete her education.

This summer she went to the Marine Biological Station at Wood's Hole, Mass. This station is a school to which people go to collect specimens. The specimens which number twenty-two are to be seen in the book case in Miss Laipple's room.

Miss Laipple's biology students wish to thank Rose Lukens for the collection which she has placed in Miss Laipple's room. The students are surely bringing in a lot of specimens, both live and preserved.

SAYS DISEASE CALLED "FIRE WASTE" IS CAUSED BY CARELESSNESS

Mr. T. J. Lynnell, special agent for the Fire Prevention League, addressed the student body last Wednesday. The subject of Mr. Lynnell's talk was The Relation of Fire Prevention to the American Citizen. Mr. Lynnell stated that the United States is suffering from a disease called "fire waste." The cause of the disease for the greater part is carelessness and the only cure known is fire prevention.

It is estimated by the fire underwriters that only fifty per cent of annual billion dollar fire loss is covered by insurance. If it increases as fast in the next twenty years it will reach over four billion dollars and thus be one of the largest political issues in the country.

He also explained that the loss in the U. S. each year is equal to a sum of five times the value of all the gold and silver mined in this country that year. NEWSPAPER IS BEST FOR NATIONAL COPY

THE Editor and Publisher of New York for October 15 mentions the fact patent to all newspapers that the newspaper is best for national copy.

Newspaper advertising built around the distribution agency in any community is much more effective in a national advertising campaign than magazine advertising, Joseph P. Licklider of St. Louis, Mo., advertising manager and sales research director of the Missouri State Life Insurance Company, told members and guests of the Advertising Club of Indianapolis meeting at the Spinks-Arms hotel there last week.

Mr. Licklider, who spoke on "That Something in Advertising," emphasized the value of newspaper advertising in any given locality to familiarize the persons of that locality with the merits of a product or service. He spoke of the $500,000 newspaper advertising campaign which his company will inaugurate to reach 50,000,000 persons in four months.

"We've got to realize that in our advertising we are trying to get over to the reader an idea or a convenience, rather than a lot of technical knowledge regarding a product or service," he said.

"Advertising that is effective depends upon several things, but the fact is that unless the advertising has 'that something' which arouses the interest or concern of a reader it is lost effort. Advertising must be able to get across a message that stirs the reader to action.

"I believe that the local newspaper affords the national advertiser the best medium of reaching the mass of people who are potential prospects. I would say to 'localize national advertising' by picking out these newspapers of the country that go into the homes or are widely read by the persons of a certain community. Advertising is like religion; advertising and religion benefit only the ones who believe in them and are everlastingly at them.

"Know your product thoroughly you are trying to advertise; know the public's need for the product you are trying to advertise, and know the publication or medium through which you are trying to advertise the product you know there is a need for."

Mr. Licklider exhibited various advertisements which had "pulling power" and contrasted the advertising of some concerns several years ago with that used today to get business.

SUNSET HOMES AND TAXES

An organization has been formed to press upon the next legislature a law authorizing Minnesota counties to establish, at public expense, Sunset Homes, to which may retire elderly men and women who are no longer self-supporting and who find themselves without the saved-up wherewithal to carry them through the sere and yellow of life's late afternoon.

The need of Sunset Homes is real. No doubt as to that. The citizen who has worked hard for his community through the active period of his life and who faces a penniless and helpless old age through no wilful fault of his own, has some right to spend his last years in an atmosphere somewhat more agreeable than that which pervades the average poor farm, with its population of congenitally hopeless and helpless incompetents. That many old men and women, deserving of a far better fate do go over the hill each year, is a tragedy of which we all may well feel ashamed.

But whether Minnesota's taxpayers would, or should, add to a tax load which they just now are striving desperately to reduce, is a question that must be answered before any Sunset Homes bill can get through the legislature.

Possibly there are other publicly-financed activities, now being carried forward, that are really not half so important as the maintenance of respectable refuges for the helpless aged. Possibly a study of the matter might lead Minnesota to lop enough such activities out of county and city budgets to permit the erection and operation of Sunset Homes without adding to total tax bills.

Or perhaps the newly organized association might find a way to create such a system of homes without recourse to the public coffers. There are a great many wealthy folk, philanthropically inclined, who might be willing to tithe themselves to finance this work, out of gratitude that they themselves have so much laid by that the shadow of the poor house will never fall across their own paths.

GLARING HEADLIGHTS

EVERY motorist has come to the conclusion that the other fellow's lights are glaring and need fixing. This week a state wide campaign against glaring and otherwise illegal automobile headlights is to be put into effect.

Cooperation of police departments, sheriff's officers and other law enforcement bodies throughout the state has been asked by the state highway department in an effort to curb this unlawful practice.

Here are some of the plans for the campaign. Establishment of headlight testing stations in every city, town and village. A preliminary educational drive to secure the cooperation of all motorists. Eventual prosecution of motorists who fail to make their headlights conform to the requirements of the new state traffic laws.

The campaign is the first step to be taken by C. M. Babcock, state highway commissioner, in enforcement of the laws passed by the last legislative session. One provision of the code gives the highway department authority to enforce it.

The headlight testing stations will instruct motorists to take precautions against glare, either by deflecting the rays, using deflectors in special instances, or otherwise changing the physical makeup of the lights.

Glaring headlights have caused many accidents in the past. People, blinded by the lights, have driven into the ditch. Coupled with glaring headlights is another traffic law violation often prevailing, and that is driving with one headlight. The campaign started by the state highway department is to be commended and we know it will be productive of good results, tending to secure greater safety in driving.

You can't always tell, says the Bemidji Daily Pioneer. "A three-day growth of beard covers many an honest heart." Seems to us that's a new place to raise whiskers.

CHAPTER VIII—Continued

"But one of those guys is familiar to me even if he is all dressed up." Devlin studied the party through his cigarette smoke. "I'd certainly like to know where I have seen that baby before."

"Probably in some of your speak-easies. You see a lot of 'em around that you never remember now-adays."

"Do you know much about this kid you're with?"

"I've known Clarice for a couple of months, just off an' on."

"Is she hooked up with any mobs?"

"Not that I know of; why, what's the matter? What are you questioning about her?"

"I'm not, but you and me are in a business where suspicious when they are right are valuable. And most of all, I'm suspicious of molls, any kind, any age and anywhere."

"Oh, Clarice is all right. She's just a kid that likes a joy ride."

Devlin subsided, but he kept his eyes on the party of three and when the girls returned to the table he asked Clarice if she knew who they were.

"Oh, a couple of spinach growers, I guess. They're letting themselves be taken for plenty, so I should care."

"Who's the boy friend who deserted you?"

"Did you hear their names?"

"I heard one of them call the young fellow facing us 'Gus,' that's all."

"Gus?" Devlin turned the name over in his mind, but he could not piece together his recollection of the familiar face and the name.

"Well, I guess it's on me," he smiled at Murtough and ordered a drink. Both men grew tired of the party and after paying their checks left. Neither Clarice or Cissie would be through until the last guest left, which might be five and it might be nine o'clock in the morning.

"Never tell a gal who hangs around the Broadway dumps anything," Devlin advised Murtough on the way down town in the car. "I been busting around on one racket and another ever since I was gun-boy for a gangster."

"What's a gun-boy?" asked Murtough. "You know I haven't been over long from Ireland an' I don't know all the ropes."

"They ain't used so much now, but in the old days every time somebody was to be bumped off a kid was taken along. He carried the gun until his chief was set for the victim and the minute the shooting happened the gun was slipped back to the kid and he disappeared under the very legs of the crowd looking for the killer. Fast automobiles have eliminated the kid in making a getaway to-day, though. A kid would only be in the way."

Murtough decided that of all the men he had met at the West End Club and among those who worked for Maunie Clocker that Devlin was the wisest and smartest of the lot. He was well dressed, so clean that Murtough mentally named him a "dude," especially when he saw the high polish on his companion's fingernails in the restaurant. But Murtough noted, also, that those same fingers were supple and wiry and filled with potential strength and harm for anyone who crossed Devlin.

Sleep did not come easily to Murtough that night. The memory of Clarice and how she had first appealed to him with her worldly New York chatter when he was fresh from Ireland clouded his mind. He compared her again, as he had compared her before, with Sheila. He knew that Sheila was the better of the two women; there never was doubt of that before, and none now, but Sheila did not seem to catch on, to be able to pick up the wise cracks that slipped off Clarice's tongue so easily. He was honestly grateful for Sheila's goodness to him during the period he was confined with his injured shoulder. But with the wound healed and the opportunity for parties and merry-making at hand, her kindness diminished in its relative importance.

With the job tomorrow night Murtough again became an active earner on the Clocker's payroll. There would be plenty of money to spend, and he had learned his lesson; he wouldn't drink so much and he would not gamble. That was definite. There was the dance at the club. It was true he had in a way promised Clarice he would take her, but in the face of Sheila's treatment of him he could not well have done otherwise than to invite her. She had been proud of that, had Sheila.

What of this Rory O'Shea. Was Sheila still interested in him? Suppose he won from Campeau, would that make any difference, would that raise him in Sheila's estimation? Murtough realized now that it was more the attacks that he and Old Tom Kildare had hurled upon the boy that had won Sheila to his defense than the casual interest her meeting with him had awakened. After all, Sheila was old-fashioned; anyone would have to admit that. She couldn't compare to girls like Clarice, who had been born and bred right here on the edge of the Great White Way. He was growing up in a fast crowd, men who got money and lots of it. What if they were law-breakers? Besides, did not they tell him that the prohibition law was unpoplar and made only to be broken? These men certainly knew more than he did about America! Thus blinded by the glamour of his foolish desires for the limelight in which played the crooks and thieves with whom he was dealing, Emmett Murtough, like other misled and ignorant youths, turned his eyes from goodness. He fell asleep with the vision of Clarice in fine feathers, a fine motor car for himself and money with which to satisfy every wish.

While he dreamed the tall, thin and dominating man of the party of three which had picked the curiosity of Devlin queried Clarice.

"Whose the boy friend who deserted you?" he asked. "The big fellow, I mean."

"Just a friend for old time's sake," replied Clarice pertly.

"You must have been brought up in a coal yard, then," remarked the one they called Gus. "He looks like a truck driver to me."

"Is that supposed to be sarcastic?" asked Clarice. "Because if you meant it that way you lose; that's just what he is, a truck driver and a good one if what the little birdies tell me is right."

"Who does he drive for?"

"How should I know?"

"Could you find out? I might have something good for a smart fellow that really can drive a truck."

"How good?"

"You find out then I'll tell you. What's he mean to you, girlie?"

"Well, he might mean 'ham and' for life, and again he may not mean anything."

"Oh, I guess he has a B. R. now and then, but of course, he don't ride in no Rolls."

"Suppose I paved a way for him to get a quick and easy five grand and he made it through you, where would you stand?"

"Five grand! Well, that'd start housekeeping in a modest way provided there was more coming from the same direction."

"Find out, girlie, just what kind of a truck he drives, for who and from where. Get me?"

"I get you, Gus, and I'll do it. All he needs is a start among regular guys. Maybe I can lead him to it through you." The pertness in her voice fled. "But, say, this ain't no frame-up, is it? I wouldn't frame nobody, not even my worst enemy."

"No, kid, I just like his looks. He looks like he could take care of himself. That's the kind of men I'm always interested in."

"You and me both," replied Clarice archly.

Clarice and Cissie passed on to another table, and when the music started they were dancing.

"I know it's him," insisted Gus. "I got only a flash of his face as he topped off the seat of the truck, and I admit he had on a sweater and a cap, but it's the build of him and the cut of that Irish fib of his that I can't forget."

NEWSPAPER IS BEST FOR NATIONAL COPY

THE Editor and Publisher of New York for October 15 mentions the fact patent to all newspapers that the newspaper is best for national copy.

Newspaper advertising built around the distribution agency in any community is much more effective in a national advertising campaign than magazine advertising, Joseph P. Licklider of St. Louis, Mo., advertising manager and sales research director of the Missouri State Life Insurance Company, told members and guests of the Advertising Club of Indianapolis meeting at the Spinks-Arms hotel there last week.

Mr. Licklider, who spoke on "That Something in Advertising," emphasized the value of newspaper advertising in any given locality to familiarize the persons of that locality with the merits of a product or service. He spoke of the $500,000 newspaper advertising campaign which his company will inaugurate to reach 50,000,000 persons in four months.

"We've got to realize that in our advertising we are trying to get over to the reader an idea or a convenience, rather than a lot of technical knowledge regarding a product or service," he said.

"Advertising that is effective depends upon several things, but the fact is that unless the advertising has 'that something' which arouses the interest or concern of a reader it is lost effort. Advertising must be able to get across a message that stirs the reader to action."

"I believe that the local newspaper affords the national advertiser the best medium of reaching the mass of people who are potential prospects. I would say to 'localize national advertising' by picking out these newspapers of the country that go into the homes or are widely read by the persons of a certain community. Advertising is like religion; advertising and religion benefit only the ones who believe in them and are everlastingly at them."

"Know your product thoroughly you are trying to advertise; know the public's need for the product you are trying to advertise, and know the publication or medium through which you are trying to advertise the product you know there is a need for."

Mr. Licklider exhibited various advertisements which had "pulling power" and contrasted the advertising of some concerns several years ago with that used today to get business.

SUNSET HOMES AND TAXES

THE Minneapolis Journal takes up editorially the matter of Sunset Homes and the taxes required to make such a proposition a reality.

An organization has been formed to press upon the next legislature a law authorizing Minnesota counties to establish, at public expense, Sunset Homes, to which may retire elderly men and women who are no longer self-supporting and who find themselves without the saved-up wherewithal to carry them through the sere and yellow of life's late afternoon.

The need of Sunset Homes is real. No doubt as to that. The citizen who has worked hard for his community through the active period of his life and who faces a penniless and helpless old age through no wilful fault of his own, has some right to spend his last years in an atmosphere somewhat more agreeable than that which pervades the average poor farm, with its population of congenitally hopeless and helpless incompetents. That many old men and women, deserving of a far better fate do go over the hill each year, is a tragedy of which we all may well feel ashamed.

But whether Minnesota's taxpayers would, or should, add to a tax load which they just now are striving desperately to reduce, is a question that must be answered before any Sunset Homes bill can get through the legislature.

Possibly there are other publicly-financed activities, now being carried forward, that are really not half so important as the maintenance of respectable refugees for the helpless aged. Possibly a study of the matter might lead Minnesota to lop enough such activities out of county and city budgets to permit the erection and operation of Sunset Homes without adding to total tax bills.

Or perhaps the newly organized association might find a way to create such a system of homes without recourse to the public coffers. There are a great many wealthy folk, philanthropically inclined, who might be willing to tithe themselves to finance this work, out of gratitude that they themselves have so much laid by that the shadow of the poor house will never fall across their own paths.

GLARING HEADLIGHTS

EVERY motorist has come to the conclusion that the other fellow's lights are glaring and need fixing. This week a state wide campaign against glaring and otherwise illegal automobile headlights is to be put into effect.

Cooperation of police departments, sheriff's officers and other law enforcement bodies throughout the state has been asked by the state highway department in an effort to curb this unlawful practice.

Here are some of the plans for the campaign. Establishment of headlight testing stations in every city, town and village. A preliminary educational drive to secure the cooperation of all motorists. Eventual prosecution of motorists who fail to make their headlights conform to the requirements of the new state traffic laws.

The campaign is the first step to be taken by C. M. Babcock, state highway commissioner, in enforcement of the laws passed by the last legislative session. One provision of the code gives the highway department authority to enforce it.

The headlight testing stations will instruct motorists to take precautions against glare, either by deflecting the rays, using deflectors in special instances, or otherwise changing the physical makeup of the lights.

Glaring headlights have caused many accidents in the past. People, blinded by the lights, have driven into the ditch. Coupled with glaring headlights is another traffic law violation often prevailing, and that is driving with one headlight. The campaign started by the state highway department is to be commended and we know it will be productive of good results, tending to secure greater safety in driving.

You can't always tell, says the Bemidji Daily Pioneer. "A three-day growth of beard covers many an honest heart." Seems to us that's a new place to raise whiskers.

SYNOPSIS

Emmett Murtough of Killanmaul, Ireland, emigrates to America and is followed by Sheila Kildare, to whom he is betrothed, and her father. Murtough evades the marriage, however, and Sheila makes friends with the family of Rory O'Shea, a professional boxer whose kindly attentions interest her. Murtough is hired by bootleggers to drive a truck and becomes involved with Clarice Clancy, a cabaret girl. There is a party at the "Castle," one of the notorious night clubs of New York City.

TUNNEY WILL FIGHT TWICE NEXT YEAR DEFENDING TITLE

FIGHTER SENDS WORD FROM MAINE WOODS

THE LATTER BACK FOR A THIRD TRY AFTER TWO CONSPICUOUS FAILURES

By FRANK GETTY (United Press Sports Editor)

New York, Oct. 18.—Gene Tunney sends word from the Maine woods that he wants to defend his heavyweight title twice next year.

One of his opponents, he expects, will be none other than William Harrison Dempsey, back for a third try after two conspicuous failures.

Tunney thinks his other opponent may be Tom Heeney, the New Zealander, who is considered by Gene the best of the crop of heavies who are about to take part in Tex Rickard's elimination tournament.

The heavyweight champion will insist that the fights go 15 rounds and believes he would have ended all arguments by knocking out Jack Dempsey at Chicago last month if the battle at Soldiers' Field had not been limited to ten rounds.

Gene told of his wishes, beliefs and prejudices in an interview granted Al Buck of the Portland Evening News at Rockwood, Me., and copyrighted by the Evening News.

"I would like to defend the championship on July 4 and then again in September," Tunney said. "I expect Dempsey to be one of the two men I meet. Jack is too smart for the rest of the field."

It develops that the present heavyweight champion considers Dempsey "tricky, but very smart."

More than Jack's punching ability, more than his courage, which Gene freely acknowledges, Tunney praises Dempsey's ring-craft.

This is interesting in view of the fact that there had been a rather wide-spread opinion that the title-holder under-rated his erstwhile opponent's mentality.

In addition to Dempsey, Gene expects to meet the survivor of the elimination tournament.

"I think Heeney is the best of the present lot," Al Buck quotes Tunney as saying.

Heretofore, Gene has been reticent about such opinions, for fear of hurting the feelings of other heavyweights and especially of their sensitive managers.

Apparently, however, Tunney went on to discuss the aspirants for his title.

"There's Jack Sharkey, of course," he said, according to Buck, "but I think Dempsey always will be able to defeat Sharkey. Paulino and Phil Scott are rugged and strong, but my guess would be Heeney."

Gene said he had signed no contract with Tex Rickard concerning the defense of his championship, and that he would not sign until assured that the bout would be for 15 rounds.

"Every championship affair should be at that distance," said Tunney. "If my last bout with Dempsey had been at 15 rounds, I think I could have stopped him."

The champion told Buck that even if George Godfrey, the negro heavyweight who stopped Jimmy Maloney and Monte Munn in short order, were to win his way through an elimination tournament, there would be no chance of a Tunney-Godfrey bout.

"I have drawn the color line. I have never met a negro boxer and never will," Buck quotes the champion as saying.

Dundee and Mandell Recognized as Champs of Their Divisions

Toledo, O., Oct. 18.—(UP)—Joe Dundee, welterweight, and Sammy Mandell, lightweight, who have been in disfavor of late, today were recognized by the National Boxing association here as the champions of their divisions.

The convention of boxing authorities also moved to clear up the muddle in the light heavyweight division due to the action of Jack Delaney in relinquishing his title, by naming Jimmy Slattery of New York as the new champion.

Mickey Walker was recognized as the champion of the middleweights; Benny Bass of the featherweights and Bud Taylor of the bantams.

The flyweight title was declared open as a result of the retirement of Fidel Labarba.

Thomas E. Donohue of Hartford, Conn., was elected president of the National Boxing commission after the situation over the various champions had been straightened out. Donohue has been acting as president of the body.

42 YEAR OLD JACK BRITTON LOSES BATTLE

COULD NOT STAVE OFF MARTINEZ' TWO-FISTED ATTACK

New York, Oct. 18.—(UP)—Another veteran has failed to beat back along the fistic comeback trail.

Forty-two year old Jack Britton, former welterweight champion, displayed only one of his old fighting qualities—a fighting head—in his 10-round bout with Hilario Martinez, Spanish junior welterweight champion, at the new Broadway arena last night.

Britton frequently outboxed the young Spaniard, but he could not stave off Martinez' two-fisted attack that forced him into retreat many times throughout the bout. Martinez was awarded seven rounds.

Jack had one chance to win—Martinez struck a questionable blow along Britton's foul line in the first round and the veteran took a count of six, claiming a foul blow. Referee Dorman disallowed his claim.

Martinez bored into Britton throughout the fight, plugging for old Jack's jaw. Although Britton's legs lacked the agility to keep him out of Martinez's reach, his body twisting made the Castilian miss frequently.

Considering the fact that Britton fought his first bout the year Martinez was born, 23 years ago, the ex-champion's showing against one of the leading challengers for Joe Dundee's welterweight crown is all the more remarkable.

LOOK FOR SUCCESSOR TO BAN JOHNSON

Chicago, Oct. 18.—(UP)—With the American league headquarters here temporarily in charge of Frank Navin, vice president and acting president, and William Harridge, secretary to Ban Johnson for 15 years, baseball fans looked today for a probable successor to Johnson.

The league president stepped out of office yesterday, ending 34 years in office.

E. S. Barnard, of the Cleveland club, has been regarded as the most likely candidate ever since last spring, when Johnson submitted his resignation. No suggestion of official basis for reports that he would be next league chief has been given, however.

Johnson left the presidency yesterday at a calm meeting with three directors of the league, contrasting with the fighting sessions which have been customary when Ban and the club owners met. Navin, of Detroit, Clark Griffith, Washington, and Thomas Shibe, Philadelphia, were the directors who attended.

Johnson left last night for Excelsior Springs, Mo., where he will recuperate for a few weeks before leaving for Honolulu.

FRANKLIN AND MARSHALL COLLEGE WITHOUT GRID TEAM

Lancaster, Pa., Oct. 18.—(UP)—Franklin and Marshall college is without a football team today.

Indignant at the demotion of Head Coach D. K. Schroyer to the position of coach of the freshman team, the entire varsity team walked off the practice field last night when announcement was made of Schroyer's let-down.

After a humiliating defeat at the hands of a ten-man casualty-weakened Ursinus team Saturday, the faculty committee for athletics removed Coach Schroyer from his position and promoted Charlie Mayser, who had been Schroyer's assistant. Shober Barr, freshman team coach, was made assistant to the head coach.

Now the faculty committee faces a hard situation. The varsity men refuse to play under Mayser, or to return to the gridiron until Schroyer is reinstated.

Opinion on the campus today was that the faculty committee will reconsider its action, and that the team will be back on the field tonight.

BENNY BASS DEFEATS MIKE BALLERINO

Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 18.—(UP)—Benny Bass, of Philadelphia, making his first appearance as featherweight champion, defeated Mike Ballerino, of Bayonne, N. J., former junior lightweight champion, in ten fast rounds.

Bass, who was outweighed seven pounds, punched hard and accounted for a knockdown in the fourth round but Ballerino was up at the count of eight.

CRITICIZES COACH FOR FAILURE TO USE TRICK PLAYS

"PAT" JONES GIVES THREE REASONS WHY MINNESOTA DID NOT DEFEAT INDIANA

GOPHERS NEED TO BEAR DOWN IF THEY HOPE TO DEFEAT HAWKEYES SATURDAY

Paul M. Jones, Brainerd, in the following article gives his review of the Big Ten teams following the games Saturday and presents his reasons why Minnesota did not defeat Indiana:

The turning point in the football schedules of the Big Ten schools was reached Saturday, and from the preliminary games the teams were all forced to either win or be eliminated from the championship for the time being or possibly for the year.

I have always contended that the sporting critics over-rated Ohio and under-estimated Michigan and Wisconsin. Minnesota and Michigan will again fight it out for the Big Ten championship and are lucky in not meeting Northwestern which eliminated Ohio by a small margin, but far superior to the score margin of three points. Michigan, as predicted, ran true to form and beat Wisconsin, but in so doing, made a real team of the Badgers and a tough one for the other conference teams that are scheduled to meet her. Michigan met her in her process of shaping, as the score indicates, but it only shows what the Wolverines will be through the year for others to defeat.

In regards to the Minnesota football team, I have not changed my opinion because she was held to a 14-14 tie by Indiana, the supposed weak team of the conference, which had previously been defeated by Chicago, 13-0. Three reasons were responsible for the Gopher tie, which the Twin City sport writers fail to state for they are afraid to attack the coach and try to lay all the blame on the players. They are:

1. Over-confidence — the ruination of any team.
2. Poor generalship in the pinches.
3. Failure on the part of the coach to give to the team a few plays that the quarterback could use within the 25-yard line like other teams have that are deceptive enough to score without relying upon brute strength, which has been about the only way the Gophers have ever been able to score on all high class teams, and when that failed, they failed.

The Gophers now must bear down and prepare in earnest for the Hawkeyes Saturday at Minneapolis or they will be eliminated from the championship. Ohio beat the Iowans 13-6 and will be plenty tough for the Gophers as they had an easy game with Wabash while Minnesota was probably pretty much shaken up by Indiana. The following week Wisconsin appears at the stadium and though beaten by Michigan, from faulty football rather than any particular weakness of the Badgers, and unless the Gophers show a decided improvement in blocking their forward-pass game will be decisively defeated. With all their lessons in the defense, for such, they seem to be unaware at the times they should be prepared to meet the attack in the air.

As confident as I was at the beginning of the season, I am certainly mighty skeptical of the Gophers to meet Rockne's Notre Dame team so decisively, 19-6. The two teams are altogether two distinctively different types of teams. Notre Dame the light, flashy aggregation, while the Minnesota boys are a big, strong, heavy team trying to perfect an air and running attack along with their line smashing game.

Drake will be a needed help to the team after these three strenuous combats and will be enough of a battle to give them such a leeway, that if down in the mouth, by easy scoring, it will help change their mental attitude and prepare them for the final game at Ann Arbor for Michigan, and the championship of the conference and country if Rockne and the conference are as good to them, at their time of meeting, as Minnesota was to Indiana.

TUNNEY WILL FIGHT TWICE NEXT YEAR DEFENDING TITLE

FIGHTER SENDS WORD FROM MAINE WOODS

THE LATTER BACK FOR A THIRD TRY AFTER TWO CONSPICUOUS FAILURES

By FRANK GETTY
(United Press Sports Editor)
New York, Oct. 18.—Gene Tunney sends word from the Maine woods that he wants to defend his heavyweight title twice next year.

One of his opponents, he expects, will be none other than William Harrison Dempsey, back for a third try after two conspicuous failures.

Tunney thinks his other opponent may be Tom Heeney, the New Zealand, who is considered by Gene the best of the crop of heavies who are about to take part in Tex Rickard's elimination tournament.

The heavyweight champion will insist that the fights go 15 rounds and believes he would have ended all arguments by knocking out Jack Dempsey at Chicago last month if the battle at Soldiers' Field had not been limited to ten rounds.

It is a sale where you buy an item at the regular price, then another item of the same kind for one cent. As an illustration: The standard price of Klenzo Dental Creme is 50c, you buy a tube at this price and by paying 1 cent more, or 51 cents, you get two tubes. Every article in this sale is a high class standard piece of merchandise, just the same as is sold every day at the regular price.

This sale was developed by the United Drug Co. as an advertising plan. Rather than spend large sums of money in other ways to convince you of the merit of these goods, they are spending it on this sale in permitting us to sell you a full size package of high standard merchandise for 1 cent. It costs money to get new customers, but the sacrifice in profit is justified, knowing the goods will please you.

ASKS PERMIT TO INSTALL TANKS

Committee Named to Interview
Property Owners in Vicinity of Proposed Construction

NEAR FORD COAL SHEDS

Request Made That N. P. Officials Confer With Council Regarding Safety

Aldermen W. J. Hall, R. H. Paine, and C. G. Holmstrom together with City Engineer R. T. Campbell were named members of a committee by President W. J. Lyons at a meeting of the city council last evening to interview property owners relative to the request of Walter P. Tyrholm, of the Tyrholm Motor Co. for the construction of gasoline storage tanks between 7th and 8th streets east of the Ford coal sheds.

Mr. Tyrholm stated that it was the intention of the company to go into the wholesale distribution of gasoline and oils.

Alderman Hall was of the opinion that the residents of that district should be consulted as to whether or not they want the tanks to go in there and whether or not insurance rates would increase on property there on account of the construction of gasoline tanks.

Mr. Tyrholm presented a letter from the General Insurance Inspectors which stated that the increase in the insurance rate to tax owners there would not affect them any more than the construction of any other building provided the tanks were so constructed that the fire risk would not be increased. He further stated that it was the intention of the company to install the concrete foundation before the cold weather sets in and urged that as early action as possible be taken.

The request of E. A. Houle for the installation of a curb gasoline pump on the Clark warehouse property necessitated the calling of ayes and nays. All aldermen voted in favor with the exception of Alderman Martin Anderson who felt that should the curb pump license be granted, all other licenses that had not been granted should be rescinded.

The city engineer was instructed to present an estimate to the next meeting of the cost of putting in an iron sewer running east from the Webb property on North 5th street. The purchasing committee was instructed to purchase a Foamite three gallon extinguisher for the fire truck.

The matter of installing a light on the corner of 11th and Main streets was referred to the fire, water and light committee.

Alderman V. F. Anderson, chairman of the finance committee reported that the city had received the $10,000 gross earnings tax from the state and that the distribution of this money to respective funds was being made.

The city engineer was given authority to grade any streets in the city he considered was necessary this fall.

On motion, Mrs. E. T. Fleener,

city clerk, was instructed to write to Charles Donnelly, president of the Northern Pacific railway asking that officials of the railway be sent here to confer with the council and look over the safety situation relative to tracks in the city.

Alderman Martin Anderson requested that tests be made of the water facilities of the Northern Pacific shops by the State Health Department on their next inspection in this city. State health officials twice a year test the water supply of Brainerd at various sections of the city.

Twenty Men Attack
From All Sides

It was a fast and furious game with a tie score until the last of the ninth inning with two men down and two strikes on the batter. Nutting who finished two "sticks" during the fracas, landed on another for what would ordinarily be a two base hit, but by going on "wings" stretched it two extras and was counted safe in a "neck" and "neck" race on the home plate.

The game on Thursday was the last of the season when the Northeast Brainerd baseball team met and conquered the "Mallard Ducks" from the rice beds of Crow Wing county. The wild birds were done to a turn when twenty members and officers of the team sat down to a banquet prepared by Mrs. H. C. Stein at her home, 223 1/2 Ave. N. E., last Thursday evening, and the boys made short work of the ducks bagged by Walt Stein and "Junk" Swanson. To go with the ducks were all the "trimmings" prepared only as Mrs. Stein can prepare them.

The center piece of the banquet table was a tripod of three bats with a baseball and was topped by our flag. The color scheme was carried out in pink and white with lighted candles. The place cards were snapshots taken of the team at the House of David game.

The event was the end of the season get together "pop" fest for the team. Edward Edling was the toastmaster and carried out the role to a perfection, keeping the gathering roaring with laughter at the witty introductions of each player who responded in like manner. Jarboe scored a home run with the suggestion that the center piece be replaced next year by the championship cup which was heartily greeted by cheers from the other members of the team. The verdict of the evening was that all be present for spring practise and that they are going to win lack the cup.

During the course of the evening all the games of the past season were played over again. The only regret was that they could not get out now and respond to the cheerful call, "Play Ball." The boys expressed appreciation for the loyal support given by the fans of Northeast and other parts of the city. The banquet served by Mr. and Mrs. Stein was enjoyed very much.

Among the guests were: Frank Jarboe, Winston Van Walk, Jimmy Richmond, Ira Holman, Walt Schwendeman, Junk Swanson, Fritz Elling, Roy Thon, Al Swanson, Frank Kaufman, Leo Skiba, George Howard, Pede Bedal, Marvin Nutting, Walt Stein, Sherman Stein, Fred Haas, Shorty Bloomstrom, Edward Elling, and Howard Mahood.

ASKS PERMIT TO INSTALL TANKS

Property Owners in Vicinity of Proposed Construction

NEAR FORD COAL SHEDS

Request Made That N. P. Officials Confer With Council Regarding

Aldermen W. J. Hall, R. H. Paine, and C. G. Holmstrom together with City Engineer R. T. Campbell were named members of a committee by President W. J. Lyonais at a meeting of the city council last evening to interview property owners relative to the request of Walter P. Tyrholm, of the Tyrholm Motor Co. for the construction of gasoline storage tanks between 7th and 8th streets east of the Ford coal sheds.

Mr. Tyrholm stated that it was the intention of the company to go into the wholesale distribution of gasoline and oils.

Alderman Hall was of the opinion that the residents of that district should be consulted as to whether or not they want the tanks to go in there and whether or not insurance rates would increase on property there on account of the construction of gasoline tanks.

Mr. Tyrholm presented a letter from the General Insurance Inspectors which stated that the increase in the insurance rate to tax owners there would not affect them any more than the construction of any other building provided the tanks were so constructed that the fire risk would not be increased. He further stated that it was the intention of the company to install the concrete foundation before the cold weather sets in and urged that as early action as possible be taken.

The request of E. A. Houle for the installation of a curb gasoline pump on the Clark warehouse property necessitated the calling of ayes and nays. All aldermen voted in favor with the exception of Alderman Martin Anderson who felt that should the curb pump license be granted, all other licenses that had not been granted should be rescinded.

The city engineer was instructed to present an estimate to the next meeting of the cost of putting in an iron sewer running east from the Webb property on North 5th street. The purchasing committee was instructed to purchase a Foamite three gallon extinguisher for the fire truck.

The matter of installing a light on the corner of 11th and Main streets was referred to the fire, water and light committee.

Alderman V. P. Anderson, chairman of the finance committee reported that the city had received the $10,000 gross earnings tax from the state and that the distribution of this money to respective funds was being made.

The city engineer was given authority to grade any streets in the city he considered was necessary this fall.

city clerk, was instructed to write to Charles Donnelly, president of the Northern Pacific railway asking that officials of the railway be sent here to confer with the council and look over the safety situation relative to tracks in the city.

Alderman Martin Anderson requested that tests be made of the water facilities of the Northern Pacific shops by the State Health Department on their next inspection in this city. State health officials twice a year test the water supply of Brainerd at various sections of the city.

BRAINERD 25 YEARS AGO

From the Daily Dispatch

October 18, 1902

A few days ago little Bessie, the son of P. M. Zakariason, wandered from its home near the Washington school building and was picked up on the north side by Miss Bessie Treglawny and turned over to the police who located its parents. Now the little boy, who is only three years of age, is critically ill from the effects of a bad cold he caught that day and the hopes for his recovery are doubtful.

Mott Hammett is in the city today from Bay Lake and is rather attentive to the dear school marm who are attending the meeting at the court house.

Mrs. C. W. Eastman and Mrs. G. P. Mitchell left this afternoon for Minneapolis. Mrs. Eastman will go to Fergus Falls for a visit before returning home.

Mrs. Frank Brown, of Crookston, arrived in the city this afternoon from Duluth and will visit for some time with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lowe, her aunt and uncle. Mrs. Brown was formerly Miss Ruth Rosser and is well known in this city.

Are You "Knowledgeable"?

Europe has a new word to play with. Every year or so it coins one or picks up an old one used in a new way. This year it is the thing to use "knowledgeable" in lieu of "learned" or words of similar meaning. One may be "knowledgeable" in music, horse, politics, women or anything else.

BRAINERD 25 YEARS AGO

From the Daily Dispatch

October 18, 1902

A few days ago little Bennie, the son of P. M. Zakariason, wandered from its home near the Washington school building and was picked up on the north side by Miss Bessie Treglowny and turned over to the police who located its parents. Now the little boy, who is only three years of age, is critically ill from the effects of a bad cold he caught that day and the hopes for his recovery are doubtful.

Mott Hammett is in the city today from Bay Lake and is rather attentive to the dear school marm who are attending the meeting at the court house.

Mrs. C. W. Eastman and Mrs. G.
F. Mitchell left this afternoon for Minneapolis. Mrs. Eastman will go to Fergus Falls for a visit before returning home.

Mrs. Frank Brown, of Crookston, arrived in the city this afternoon from Duluth and will visit for some time with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Low. her aunt and uncle. Mrs. Brown was formerly Miss Ruth Rosser and is well known in this city.

tor Fleming directed! Paramount produced it and the picture's name is "Hula!" We dare you to stay
